DBA-R

An employee who is not a school bus driver and drives a district vehicle to transport students is subject to driving record examinations. However, the District shall not conduct pre-employment driving record checks on any employee whose regular job description will not include transporting students in a school bus. In lieu of the pre-employment driving record check, the District shall do a driving record examination of an employee (who is not a bus driver) before the employee drives a school vehicle to transport students for the first time and then annually thereafter as long as the employee continues to drive students.

If the Director of Operations makes a determination that an employee's driving record is unacceptable, the employee shall not be allowed to transport students in a district vehicle until such time the employee's driving record improves to an acceptable level, as determined by the Director of Operations.
